Made for you by Pontoco, The Last Clockwinder is a VR automation game about building magical contraptions out of your own clones in a cozy sci-fi world.

You are on a mission to repair an ancient clocktower built into the trunk of a colossal tree. Inside, you find a pair of gloves that allow you to turn anything you do into a looping clockwork automaton.

Use your automatons to grow plants, harvest resources, and find a way to save the clocktower!
